On the second day of March 1805 Continued the business [P. 595] agreeable to adjournment when the following agreement was entered into by and between the six residentary legatees.

Whereas by a bequest in the last will and testament of the late Elizabeth Prater afterwards the wife of the late Jesse Brashears deceased, and lastly wife of George Freeland Senior of Tompson's Creek in the district of New Feliciana of which the following words are an exact copy (viz) "The remainder of my estate real and "personal, consisting of lands, lots in Pensacola, Negroes (viz) "Lucy, Bob, Nell, George, Jenny and March; and horned cattle, the "number not ascertained. I give and bequeath to my children [P. 596] "namely Zadok, Philip, Elizabeth, Samuel, Asa, and Routh Brashears "to be equally divided amongst them after my decease." Of which last will, Zadok Brashears, Doctor James Rouell [Raoul] and John Murdoch Esquire are therein appointed the Executors have been legally admitted to administer the Estate and have severally accepted their appointment: we the said legatees named in the said testament are severally interested: we do therefore hereby acknowledge our selves satisfied with all the dispositions made by the testatrix in the said testament; and do mutually and severally agree that the said Executors shall conform themselves thereto. And further we do hereby severally agree that out of the said residue of the Estate said Executors shall pay the amount of a note of our [P. 597] late father Jesse Brashears to William Raldliffe for the sum of twenty dollars; and also shall pay out of the said residue the incidental and testamentary charges of settling the said Estate. And we do hereby mutually and severally agree that the said Executors shall make and execute sufficient deeds and assurances of title of the several legacies to the respective legatees and they shall for the sums at which the several assets have been appraised grant and convey by sufficient deed as follows; that is to say to Philip Brashears the negro woman Lucy for the sum of three hundred and fifty dollars. To Samuel Brashears the negro girl [P. 598] Nel for the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars. To Asa Brashears the negro boy George for the sum of two hundred and thirty dollars. To Zadok Brashears the negro girl Jenny and the negro boy March for the sum of two hundred dollars, and the feather bed and bed cloaths for the sum of twenty dollars. To Routh Brashears wife of George Freeland junior the negro boy Bob for the sum of three hundred, and four head of horned cattle for the sum of twenty four dollars: and to Samuel Brashears four head of horned cattle for the sum of twenty dollars: and receive from those legatees who by this dis-

JOHN NUTHALL, 1620 - 1667

John Nuthall, son of John Nuthall and his wife, was born in London, England and came to the colony of Virginia before August 16, 1664 as proved by a letter from Joseph Philips, a London merchant, to his brother in Virginia written on that date. In it he sends his "kind respects to Mr. Nuthall and tell him his father, mother and sister are in good health," and encloses a letter to Mr. Nuthall from his father (William & Mary Quarterly, Ser. 1, v. 5, pp. 40-41).

The Virginia land records show that on July 27, 1645 John Nuthall was granted 300 acres of land in Northampton County at the head of Hungar's Creek adjacent to land formerly owned by John Hollawaye, for transporting six persons, himself twice, Elizabeth his wife, John Towson, Andrew Ditch and John Evere (Nugent, p. 158). In 1642 John Hollaway (Hallawaye) had been granted 1300 acres in Northampton County, part of which was on Hungar Creek. He died in 1643 and John Nuthall married Elizabeth (Bacon) Holloway, widow of John Holloway (Nugent, pp. 123, 135; Torrence, p. 213; Monnet Family Genealogy, p. 1069).

Elizabeth Bacon was a daughter of Reverend James Bacon, d. 1649 and his second wife, Martha Woodward, daughter of George and Elizabeth (Honeywood) Woodward. Elizabeth is the sister of the Honorable Nathaniel Bacon, 1620-1692 of Virginia. Their father, the Reverend James Bacon was rector of Burgate in Suffolk, England and he and his brother, Nathaniel, were younger sons of Sir James and Elizabeth Bacon of Friston Hall, Suffolk. Sir James is said to be a first cousin of Sir Francis Bacon (Boddie, John Bennett. Seventeenth Century Isle of Wight Co., Va., pp. 107-108). Boddie does not include Elizabeth's name as a sister of Nathaniel being concerned with the male line only. However at that time there were no other Bacons in Virginia and Elizabeth (Bacon) Holloway Nuthall names her second son, James Nuthall, surely for her father just as I believe she was named for her grandmother, Elizabeth Honeywood. There is no documentary proof for this in the Virginia records but a careful perusal of Suffolk diocese registers in England might confirm this surmise.

After John Nuthall's marriage to Elizabeth they settled on his plantation in Northampton County where the county records give evidence of some of his activities, referring to him as John Nuthall, merchant. On March 30, 1652 he joined five of his neighbors in signing a petition to the Assembly listing several grievances which they desired rectified, the main issue being unjust taxation without proper representation. They also wished an annual choice of magistrates and a voice in naming a Governor such as Mr. Richard Bennett (William & Mary Quarterly, Historical Papers, v. 1, p. 191). Another Northampton County record in the year 1658 concerns power of attorney given to John Nuthall of London, merchant, to represent the heirs of the estate of Gertrude Luddington, all of the Parish of St. Andrews, Holbourne, London (William & Mary Quarterly, Ser. 1, v. 5, pp. 40-41).

John Nuthall's name appeared in the Maryland records before the date of his land grant in Virginia. In 1643 he testified in court that Roger Oliver had been killed on board a vessel by an Indian (Maryland Archives, v. 4, p. 210). This episode doubtless occured during one of his trips as a merchant between Virginia and Maryland. It was considerably after this date that he came from Virginia to settle in Maryland. About 1661 he purchased "Cross Manor" and "St. Elizabeth's Manor," totaling 4000 acres, from Thomas Cornwallys (Archives, v. 51, pp. 1-3). The Maryland Provincial Court records for the same year state that Mr. John Nuthall, attorney, represented Major Thomas Brooke in a suit against Richard Garner for debt. When John Nuthall, merchant, was granted an exclusive license for trading with the Indians in 1661, it resulted in a lawsuit against John Elsey over landing on the Wicomico in his ship, the Accommak. This was settled in 1662 in favor of John Nuthall (Archives, v. 3, pp. 445-446, 468). He was appointed to the Commission Issued for Peace in St. Mary's County and also served on the jury in 1665 (Archives, v. 3, pp. 513-514, 540).

Two years later John Nuthall died intestate and his estate was appraised October 10, 1667. In 1668 the Council of Maryland ordered his personal estate divided among his three children John, James, and Eleanor Nuthall, now the wife of Thomas Sprigg (Archives v. 5, p. 34).

Elizabeth, wife of John Nuthall, had evidently died in Virginia before the family came to Maryland. Skordas lists John Nuthall immigrated 1663; James Nuthall, son of John, and John Nuthall, son of John, transported in 1663 (Skordas, pp. 339-340).

The name Nuthall is spelled variously: Nuttall, Nutthall and Nutwell in the Maryland and Virginia records.

JOHN NUTHALL, JR., 1648 - 1714

John Nuthall, eldest son of John and Elizabeth (Bacon) Nuthall was born in Northampton County, Virginia in the year 1648 as proved by a deposition made in Court at St. Mary's County in 1669 that he was 21 years old at that time (Archives, v. 60, p. 215). In 1668, a year earlier, John Nuthall sold "Cross Manor" and "St. Elizabeth's Manor," purchased by his father in 1661 and which he had inherited, to Mark Cordea for 60,000 pounds of tobacco (Archives, v. 51, pp. 1-3). It is said that he only received a horse, a saddle and a bridle in exchange for the plantations. His grandson, Brent Nuthall in 1721 tried to have the lands returned, but the court held that it was a valid recorded sale, although the suit included depositions from persons who had known his grandfather and his great-grandfather. Charles Calvert, in his deposition, stated that he had often heard his parents say that young Nuthall, who was not of age at the time, was outrageously cheated (Parran, v. 1. p. 281).

In 1669 John Nuthall rendered a bill to the Assembly at the spring session for entertaining 20 Indians in his home over the space of a fortnight, sometimes more, sometimes less. The clerk suggested he be paid 2000 pounds of tobacco, but protesting this amount he was finally paid 2805 pounds. At a later date he was also paid 1438 pounds for the accommodation of the Governor and Squire Calvert (Archives, v. 2. pp. 57-58. 227, 234). On April 2, 1674 he served as a member of the jury at the Court of Chancery and in 1675 John Nuthall, Jr. and his brother, James, testified in favor of Thomas Sprigg in a suit involving Nathan Truman (Archives, v. 51. pp. 156, 168, 175). John Nuthall's name is found among those listed who pledged their loyalty to King William and Queen Mary in 1692 (Archives, v. 8, p. 131). From 1697/98 to 1700 he was one of the five delegates elected to represent St. Mary's County in the Lower House of the Assembly (Biog. Dict., p. 34).

It is probable that John Nuthall married his first wife about this time. Her surname is unknown and one source states that her given name was "Barbara ---- as shown by the records of 1676-1699" but no reference given as proof (Parran, v. 1, p. 281). John and his wife lived in All Faith's Parish in St. Mary's County. This parish extended from the Harvey Hundred on the Patuxent to Swanson's Creek and to the eastern limits of Prince George's County. All Faith's had first been located in Charles County, then in Calvert and finally St. Mary's. The church records note that Mr. John Nutwell (Nuthall), Mr. Adam Bell and Mr. Robert Clarke were elected trustees of the building on November 19, 1698. He was elected to the vestry in 1703 and with his son, John, in 1707. To differentiate between the two, they became known as John Nuthall, Sr. and John Nuthall, Jr. He continued to serve on the vestry until his death in 1714 when two others were chosen to fill the vacancies left by Mr. John Nuthall and Mr. Adam Bell. It is interesting to read in one of these records that Mr. Robert Owen, also a forebear, served as occasional rector during 1701, although his regular parish was St. Paul's in Prince George's County (M.H.M., v. 30, pp. 40, 338-339, 341).

John Nuthall's first wife died sometime after their only child, a son, was born. He later married Mary Brent of Stafford County, Virginia, who also predeceased her husband. There were no children born of this second marriage (Mackenzie, v. 7, p. 112; Parran, v. 1. p. 281).

1. John, b. 167-; m. 1699 Eleanor (Sprigg) Hillary, widow of Thomas Hillary (Monnette. Monnet Family Genealogy, p. 1009; See Sprigg Family section).

John Nuthall wrote his will on November 22, 1713, but did not die until September of the following year. His will which begins "I, John Nuthall, Sr., Gent., of St. Mary's County" bequeaths to his grandson, Brent Nuthall, slaves, stock including "my mare called Flower" and "all my wearing clothes." If he dies before age 21 or unmarried then to "John Nuthall, my son." To granddaughter, Eleanor Nuthall, a slave and stock, but if she dies before 16 or unmarried, then to her father. Son, John, is named whole and sole executor and is to have "all the land belonging to the plantation where I now dwell."

Will of John Nuthall, 1714 (See appendix).

JOHN NUTHALL III, 167- - 171-

John Nuthall, son and only child of John Nuthall of All Faith's Parish, St. Mary's County was born in that county in the Province of Maryland about 1675. After his mother's death, he was brought up by his father's second wife, Mary Brent, and he apparently became very fond of his stepmother for he named his son, Brent, and one of his daughters, Mary.

The records show very little about the early life of John Nuthall. On July 2, 1696, Thomas Sprigg and his wife, Eleanor (nee Nuthall) conveyed to John Nuthall of St. Mary's County 250 acres of "Resurrection Manor," purchased by the said Thomas Sprigg from Captain Thomas Cornwallis (Md. Gen., v. 2, p. 388: Prov.

Mr. & Mrs. Frank H. Wolcott
323 Sheppard Drive
Ocean Springs, MS 39564

Court, Liber WRC, no. 1, ff. 760, 771). There is no certainty that John Nuthall III was of age at this time, and this conveyance could have been to his father. However, he later became sole heir to his father's real property, who bequeathed to son, John, "all the land belonging to the plantation where I now dwell."

Shortly after this, John Nuthall married his first cousin, Eleanor (Sprigg) Hilleary, daughter of Thomas and Eleanor (Nuthall) Sprigg (See Sprigg Family section). Eleanor Sprigg had first married Thomas Hilleary as his second wife (See Hilleary Family section). Thomas died in 1697 and sometime before 1700 Eleanor (Sprigg) Hilleary married John Nuthall. This is proved by a deed recorded in Prince George's County dated 6/25/1700 when John Nuthall of St. Mary's County, planter, sold for 50 pounds sterling a 250 acre tract of land, being part of "Three Sisters" to Thomas Sprigg, Jr., Gent. Said tract was bequeathed by Thomas Hillary, late of Calvert County, deceased, in his will dated 2/2/1697, to his wife, Eleanor, who after his death, married the said John "Nutwell" (Prince George Land Records, Liber A, ff. 218, 354). Note the variation in the spelling of John Nuthall's name in this deed.

In addition to the property inherited from her deceased husband's estate, Eleanor also inherited a third of a tract of land in the Collington Hundred from her father, Thomas Sprigg, who died in 1704. With this plantation and his own property in St. Mary's, John Nuthall must have amply justified the designation of planter in the deed of conveyance to his brother-in-law, Thomas Sprigg, Jr. As previously noted he served on the vestry of All Faith's with his father in 1707. After his father's death in 1714 his holdings increased by inheritance of the home plantation. He did not long survive his father, dying intestate sometime before 1719, when Eleanor Nuthall is listed as a taxable in the Collington Hundred of Prince George's County (Calendar of Md. State Papers. Black Books, item 163).

5. Mary, d. before 1735; m. 11/13/1729 Richard Duckett (Bowie, p. 651; Barnes, p. 54).

After John Nuthall's decease Eleanor Nuthall went to live in Prince George's County on the plantation bequeathed to her by her father in the Collington Hundred and to be near her brother, Thomas Sprigg, Jr., and her son, Thomas Hillary, Jr., by her first marriage, for they also lived in the Collington Hundred of Prince George's. The land records tell more of Eleanor's life in this county. On July 25, 1725 Eleanor Nuthall, widow, for 180 pounds purchased from Elinor Williams, widow, four slaves, stock, and household furniture which included beds, rugs, linens, utensils, tools, etc. Elinor Williams was the eldest daughter of John and Eleanor Nuthall, who, three days after her mother purchased this personal property from her deceased husband's estate, married John Pratt July 28, 1724. Further proof is the slave, Flora, who was named in both the will of her grandfather and in the deed of sale (Brown, v. 1, p. 335; P. G. Land Records, Liber M, f. 526).

Eleanor Nuthall of Prince George's County, widow, made, on 2/9/1728/9, a further deed of gift to her "beloved daughter, Eleanor Pratt" of "Sprigg's Request," to have and hold during the natural life of Reverend George Murdock, and after the decease of Eleanor Nuthall. On the same date she gave to daughter, Mary Nuthall, spinster, a negro girl and a bay horse named Blaze (P. G. Land Records, Liber M, ff. 263-264). Eleanor Nuthall made these indentures to her two daughters in anticipation of her marriage to Reverend George Murdock, the newly appointed rector of Prince George's Parish, and on February 6, 1728/9 George Murdock and Eleanor, his wife, of Prince George County for love and affection for their daughter, Mary Nuthall, spinster, and for other reasons, give her part of a parcel of land called "Sprigg's Request." On November 13, 1729, Mary Nutwell (Nuthall) married Richard Duckett, Jr. (P. G. Land Records, Liber M, f. 368; Brown, v. 1, p. 329).

The marriages of the three sisters, Priscilla, Elizabeth and Mary are all listed in the church register of Queen Anne's Parish (Brown, v. 1, pp. 329-30). Each entry spells their maiden name Nutwell although the correct spelling is Nuthall as their father signed it in land deeds, and their grandfather in his will. The marriage of their eldest sister, Eleanor, to Thomas Williams was not entered. They may have been married in another parish, but the births of their two children, Eleanor and Thomas, were noted as well as her second marriage to John Pratt. The date of the decease of their mother, Eleanor Nuthall Murdock, was not recorded in the parish register and is unknown, although she was still alive in 1741 (Bowie, pp. 569-70).

THOMAS SPRIGG, 1630 - 1704

That Thomas Sprigg was born in 1630 is proved by a depositio made 1665 in the Provincial Court, stating he was then 35 years old (Prov. Court Records, Liber FF, f. 91: Md. Hist. Mag., v. 8, p. 74). It is likely that Thomas Sprigg came from the parish of Kettering in Northhamptonshire, England, located fifteen miles east of the town of Northhampton, for he named two of his land grants "Kettering" and "Northhampton" (Smith, p. 294). He was of a titled family, using a seal bearing his coat of arms beside his signature on the inventory of Martin Falkner, Prince George's Co., 1698. The arms are described as: "Chequy or and azure a fesse ermine." Crest: "A laurel branch vert." A pair of gold seals were listed in the inventory of the estate of Thomas Sprigg in 1704 (Newman. Heraldic Marylandiana, pp. 144-145).

Thomas Sprigg was in Northhampton County, Va., as early as March 1651 when he and John Nuthall, signed their names to the list of 200 who promised "to be true and faithful to the Commonwealth of England as it is now established" (Virginia Carolorum, p. 221). A few years earlier a letter from a London merchant to his brother in Virginia instructs his brother to be sure to enclose his letters in Mr. Stone's pocket, and to get Mr. Nuthall to do the like in his to his father. This gives a clue to the close relationship to follow between Thomas Sprigg, Mr. Stone and John Nuthall (Wm. & Mary Quarterly, v. 5, pp. 40-41).

Mr. Stone was William Stone, merchant and large landowner in Northhampton county, Virginia (Nugent, pp. 27-8, 59, 135). He emigrated to Maryland in 1648 and a year later in 1649, Lord Baltimore, in an effort to increase the Protestant population of Maryland, prior to Cromwell's Commonwealth, appointed William Stone, Governor of Maryland. Governor Stone served through several stormy years until 1654 when he was tried for treason against the Commonwealth, but was acquitted and in 1658 was appointed a member of the Council by Cecilius Calvert, 2nd Lord Baltimore (Skordas, p. 444; Biog. Dict. of Md. Legislature, pp. 20-22; Richardson. Sidelights on Md. Hist., v. 1, pp. 181-184). Sometime during this period Thomas Sprigg married Catherine (Stone) Roper, widow, a sister of Governor William Stone, who in his will, dated Dec. 3, 1659, names "my brother Sprigg." Thomas Stone, son of the Governor, assigned 100 acres of land, August 3, 1662, "to my Uncle, Thomas Sprigg" (Land Office, Liber 5, f. 182: Skordas, pp. 434-444).

Thomas Sprigg first appears in the Maryland records as party to a suit against John Neville in 1657, though it seems likely he was here before that date (Archives, v. 10, p. 546). On January 18, 1658 a patent for 600 acres of land was granted to Thomas Sprigg for transporting into Maryland his wife, Catherine, Verlinda Roper (Catherine's daughter), Edward Bushell, Nathaniel Sprigge, and Hugh Johnson. This land, which he named "Sprigley," was located on the Chester River dividing Kent and Queen Anne Counties (Md. Hist. Mag., v. 8, p. 75). "Sprigley" did not, however, become the family seat. nd Catherine, his wife, convey August 17, 1661 to Simon Carpenter
00 acres in Worrell Hundred, Talbott Co. (Md. Hist. Mag., v. 8, . 74: Prov. Court, Liber BB, f. 176). In a deed of gift to his ldest daughter, Sarah Pearce, March 16, 1700, "Northampton," the amily seat, is described as a 1000 acre tract of land adjoining Brooke's Grove," originally granted to Thomas Sprigg March 1, 573, and "Kettering" of 320 acres was granted to him on August 1685. Both tracts were originally in Calvert County, now ince George's (P. G. Land Records, Liber A, ff. 207, 361). At much later date his will mentions the 500 acre tract of land alled "Collington" recently purchased, and the year before his ath, "Bear Garden" of 137 acres was surveyed for Thomas Sprigg Hill of Thomas Sprigg: Richardson, v. 1, p. 307). "Northhampton," e family seat, earned Thomas Sprigg a place on the list of ords of the Manor" in Colonial Maryland (Richardson, v. 1, p. 266).

Thomas Sprigg did more than accumulate property, he quickly came prominent in the government of the Province. He was first pointed a justice of Calvert County, and was of the Quorum in 58, 1661, 1667, 1669-70 and 1674 (Bowie, p. 593: Archives, 3, p. 424; v. 14, p. 61; v. 15, p. 37; Stein. Calvert Co., 40). In 1661 he was presiding Justice of the County and, on ril 1, 1664, he was commissioned High Sheriff of Calvert County, lding that office until May 4, 1665 (Bowie, p. 593: Archives, 3, pp. 490-491, 520). It was not until Prince George's County s erected in 1696 (which included part of Calvert County) that omas Sprigg, "a merchant, who lived at Northampton," again rved as a justice during the last decade of his life (Hienton, 18).

Thomas Sprigg's first wife, Catherine, died sometime after 61, at which time she had joined him in the deed of conveyance Simon Carpenter. There is record of one child by this mar- age, a daughter, Catherine, who received a legacy in the will Colonel Samuel Griffen, a merchant of Northumberland Co., Va., o died in 1703. The bequest is to be paid to "Catherine, ughter of my sister (in-law?) Catherine Sprigg, deceased" (Va. g. of Genealogy, v. 1, pp. 256, 472).

After Catherine's death and before 1668, Thomas Sprigg mar- ed Eleanor Nuthall, daughter of John Nuthall and Elizabeth acon) Holloway (See Nuthall Family section). Thomas Sprigg had ined his wife's father in signing the Proclamation of Submis- on to the Parliamentary Government in 1651 when they were both sidents of Northampton County, Virginia. In 1668 the Council Maryland passed an order dividing the estate of John Nuthall, ceased, among his three children, John, James and Eleanor, wife Thomas Sprigg (Archives, v. 5, p. 34). It was after his mar- age to Eleanor Nuthall that Thomas Sprigg bought "Northampton" ich became the birthplace of most of their nine children.

2. John, d. ca. 1700, unmarried.
3. Elias (M. H. M., v. 8, p. 75).
4. Sarah, m. John Pearce, d. 1768 (Will of Thos. Sprigg; Bowie, p. 594: P. G. Adm. records, Liber JD 1, f. 40).
5. Martha, m. Thomas Prather, d. 1711/2 (Monnet Family Genealogy, p. 1081).
6. Eleanor, m. (1) Thomas Hilleary, d. 1697 (Hilleary Family section). m. (2) John Nuthall, III, her cousin, who was the only child of John Nuthall, Jr. (See Nuthall Family section).
7. Elizabeth, m. Robert Wade, d., 1713/14 (Monnet Family Genealogy, p. 1081).
8. Ann, m. Phillip Gittings, d. 1720 (Magruder. Wills; Bowie, p. 594).
9. Mary, d. 1/27/1694; m. 3/12/1689 Thomas Stockett of A. A. Co. (M. H. M., v. 8, p. 76).

On July 2, 1696 Thomas Sprigg and his wife, Eleanor, convey to John Nuthall of St. Mary's County 250 acres in Resurrection Manor, purchased by Thomas Sprigg from Captain Thomas Cornwallis. John Nuthall was to marry their daughter, Eleanor, three years later. Eleanor Sprigg, wife of Thomas, does not join him in the deed of gift to their daughter Sarah Pearce in 1700, her death occuring sometime after July 1696 and before March 1700.

Thomas Sprigg wrote his will May 9, 1704, proved Dec. 29, 170 He leaves instructions to be buried beside his wife and children; daugher, Mary, sons, John and Elias, having predeceased their father (M. H. M., v. 8, p. 75). Thomas Sprigg names his surviving children bequeathing to them various legacies. To daughter, Sarah Pearce, a gold ring and money; to son, Thomas, the dwelling plantation of "Northampton" including houses thereon, and land not already disposed of. Thomas is also to have "Kettering" and 1/3 of "Collington," the great Bible and a silver tankard. Daughter, Martha Prather, a third of "Collington" adjoining William Prather' daughter, Eleanor Nuthall, the remaining third of "Collington" next to Jonathon Simons. To daughter, Elizabeth Wade, daughter, Ann Gittings, daughter, Elinor Nuthall, and daughter, Martha Prather "all my moveables within doors and without" to be equally divided between them. After appraisal of the estate and the goods they desire, the money from the disposal of the remainder is to be equally divided among them. In the event of any dissension "my loving friends, Samuel Magruder, Edward Willett? and John Smi shall decide." He desires that his mulatta, Cabby, be set free in five years. He gives each daughter four shillings, and each of their children five shillings. He gives son-in-law, Thomas Stockett and granddaughter, Eleanor Stockett, five shillings, and t grandson, Thomas Stockett, five shillings and the horse, Paton. Son, Thomas, is sole executor; in the event of his absence from the county, then sons-in-law Robert Wade, Phillip Gittings and Thomas Prather shall be executors.

Thomas Sprigg's grandson, Thomas Sprigg III, eldest son of Colonel Thomas, married Marjorie Wight, daughter of John and Ann (Baker) Gantt Wight. When Thomas Sprigg III died intestate in 1725, his widow, Marjorie (Wight) Sprigg married, as his second wife, Colonel Joseph Belt. Their daughter, Marjorie Belt, who married (1) Zachariah Lyles and (2) Ignatius Perry, became the grandmother of Lyles Robinson, who recorded her death in the Robinson Family Bible (See Wight, Belt, Lyles, and Robinson Family sections).

J. D. Warfield in his Founders of Anne Arundel and Howard Counties, pp. 261-262, gives a biographical sketch of the family of Governor Samuel Sprigg (1819-21) born in Prince George's County, who was a descendant of Thomas Sprigg through his grandson, Osborn Sprigg. Warfield writes that there was a full length portrait of Thomas Sprigg I in court costume at the "Northampton" homestead, later bought by Lord Fairfax of Virginia.

Robert and Marshall, The Prather Family in Louisiana, by Colonel Dudley Austin Tatman, 801 Celeste Street, Opelousas, Louisiana 70570.

Dedicated to the honor of those who have gone before us, including my father, Dudley Overton Tatman, who has been of great assistance with first hand knowledge; my late mother, Pearl Prather (Mrs. Dudley Overton Tatman) and her mother, Marie Sydalias Devellier (Mrs. Robert Prather) of Washington, Louisiana, March 6, 1879 - June 13, 1981, who departed this life for a better one being one hundred and two years old, three months and ten days of life in this sphere, leaving six living children, four having preceded her in death with her loving husband Robert Prather. She is also survived by twenty-six grandchildren, thirty-nine great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren, two brothers and numerous collateral relations.

In a century or more that God has given us men and women of greatness and humility one must feel honored to have lived in the same century as they. Equally, to have known, to have loved, to have been loved, to have lived for a short time with the title characters of this effort, Robert and Marshall Prather and their faithful and diligent wives, Marie Sydalias Devellier and Mary Aline Perry, can only be regarded as a high point of existence.

In their own way, they lived up to the sentiments of nobility, noblesse oblige-rank has its privileges and duties, and served faithfully their God, Country and Family.

We are indebted to many people in the gathering of the following information, some of whom we do not know by name, but to mention those who have given special help and knowledge: my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Overton Tatman, Mrs. Robert Prather, Mrs. Amos Pierrel, Mrs. Charles Bollfrass, Jr., Nellie B., Tales of a Texan, by Angela M. Burton, The Windsor Herald, London England, numerous church and court records and their custodians.

We thank all who have helped in every way and present the information as it is and has come to the writer. Some people have been reluctant to furnish dates or other information. Where dates are unknown, space is left so that if we are able to supply them it will be forwarded to those interested.

Gathering and compiling the information has been a pleasant experience, but also frustrating due to our inability to find what we wanted.

PRATHER was, and is, spelled today in different ways: Prather, Prater, Praetor (Latin) and Preter and much further back in time, according to Mr. J. C. Downing in his Know Your Name weekly column of Sunday, October 9, 1977, in the Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Sunday Advocate, Page 7-E:

PRATHER - One origin of the name is from the Celtic descriptive nickname RHYDDERC, meaning "reddish-brown" in the sense of hair or complexion, a trait of many modern family members. Other old Welsh spellings were Rhydric and Rhydderch.

The old Welsh prefix mab or map, meaning "son of", was later shortened to ab, ap and a. As these prefixes were shortened, they became a part of the main name and, as a result, consonants and vowels were switched to accomodate the local dialect.

Evan Phrydderch was at Jesus College in 1617 and a notation following his name states: "Son of Rhydderch Evans of County Carnavon". It is obvious that the Welsh writing of his name Evan ap Rhydderch, but the coalescing of ap to Rhydderch gave the pronunciation as Phrydderch.

Other Welsh spellings were Phytherot, Prytherch, Prythuch, Pluthero, Prothero(e) and Prothroe. These last two came into English as Prather and Prother.

Another origin would be a variant spelling of the English name Preater, Pretor or Prater with an intrusive -h-. This name was derived from the Latin word PRAETOR, meaning "a steward, a bailiff" either of which had administrative authority.

Willimus Prator (Latinized form) lived in Lincolnshire in 1159 and Robberous Pretor lived in Gloucestershire in 1208. Burke's General Armory describes the Prothero, Prater and Pretor arms. Jno. Prator was noted in New Kent County, Virginia, in 1687.

Margery Protherer was noted in the Norfolk area in 1690.

The 1790 census of family heads lists the spellings Prater in North and South Carolina, Prather in Maryland, Maine, North Carolina, Pennsylvania and Virginia, and Preator in South Carolina.

From this, we see the family is from old and honorable and hard working stock. Our story begins in 1500 where we reach the first starting point of our recorded ancestry.

1. John Prater, Gentleman, born before 1500, d. before June, 1547, married (after this, m. will represent married, b. born, d. died and other necessary abbreviations) Elene_____, d. before 1557. Both are buried in the Chancel of Englesham Manor, Wiltshire Manor, and his son---

2. George Prater, Englesham Manor Wiltshire, b. 1510, d. 1564, at Latton Manor, buried at Latton Church, m. abt. 1534 Jane Plott, b. 1515, dau. of Richard Plott, Blewbe Manor, d. Feb. 1587, bur. beside her husband (Jane's will at East Lilliard appars.).

3. Anthony Prather, Stanton Manor, Wiltshire, b. abt. 1545, d. 1593 at Stanton Manor, m. 1572 Judith Inye, b. 1550, West Kington, Wiltshire, d. Feb. 16, 1578, and had..

4. Thomas Prater, b. 1577, d. 1628, m. 1599 Margaret Quintyne at Oaffe Papard Church Wiltshire, b. 1578, d. 1628, dau. of Henry and Alice Quintyne, Nushton Wiltshire, and had..

5. Thomas Prather, b. 1604 at Eton Water House, North Wiltshire, and when he was about 18, signed up for his passage with the Captain of the "Maria Providence", which arrived in Elizerbeth City, Virginia, 1622. It seems that ship captains brought over all the young men they could and then sold their rights for the passage money to whoever did pay it and at a great profit as they could arrange to squeeze out of them.

Two years later, in 1624, Thomas Prather I (in America), one of the younger sons of a respected family with little chance of fame and fortune in the Old World was starting on his own in the very New World and was living and working at the home of John Powell, possibly a relative, in Elizerbeth City. Often the ones paying the passage of the young immigrants, who became bond-servants, were relatives from back in England.

It took about five years to pay back the passage, at the end of which time Thomas, like others in his condition, would receive 50 acres of land, some clothes and some implements to farm his own land. Thomas married Mary McKay in 1627, and they had several sons, four of whom were: Samuel, Jonathan, William and [illegible], who went to Maryland and it is son Jonathan we follow.

Due to the English laws on succession of property---primiogentre, where the oldest son received all of the inheritance---the world owes much to the younger sons and daughters of families of quality, such as Thomas Prather, who explored and colonized the world.

6. Jonathan (John) I, b. 1630, d. 1680, m. Jane Goldsmith, b. 1635, d. Aug., 1713, dau. of George Goldsmith, Baltimore, Maryland. She m. 2. John Smith, plantation owner, who owned a large plantation on the Patuscent River. Jonathan and Jane had:

7. Thomas Prather II, b. 1673, d. 1712, m. ____ Martha Sprigg, b. 1677 and d. 1742. And had:

8. Aaron Prather I, b. 1711, d. 1797 in Montgomery County, Maryland, m. Oct. 10, 1738, first cousin Jane Prather, b. 1710, d. ____, dau. of Jonathan Prather II and Elzerbeth Prather, and had:

9. Aaron Prather II, b. 1739, d. 1797, m. Mary Swearington, dau. of John, and had: Aaron III, b. 1757, d. ____; Azariah, b. 1760, d. 1812, whose fortune we will follow; Verlinda (Linny), b. 1762, d. ____; Elizerbeth, b. ____, d. ____; Barauch William, b. 1765, d. ____; John, b. 1769, d. ____; Thomas, b. 1776, d. ____.

Aaron Prather fought in the American Revolution with the Maryland Militia and is listed among Patriots by the Daughters of the American Revolution, 1976 publication. He signed the Revolutionary Oath of Allegiance on January 9, 1778.

10. According to Miss Anna Cartlidge, genealogist, Baltimore, Maryland, and a descendant of Azariah's daughter, Sally:

Azariah Prather I, b. 1760 in Maryland, was Revolutionary War soldier, Joseph Wilson's Returns Montgomery County Maryland Militia, Jan. 19, 1778, Second Squad of I Battallion, 32nd Regiment, Co. 5, and signed the Revolutionary Oath of Allegiance, January 19, 1778, in Montgomery County, Maryland, on the same list that his father signed. Azariah m. Ruth Lochlin in 1780 in Maryland, and had: Thomas, b. 178-, d. ____; Tyler, b. 178-, d. ____; Nicholas, b. 178-, d. 18--; Aaron, b. 178-, d. 1853; Nellie, b. 178- in Clark County, Va., which later became part of the new state of Kentucky in 1791, d. ____; Sally, b. 178-, d. 1848.

The 1790 United States Census lists Azariah as living in the Kentucky area. His first wife, Ruth, died here and Azariah m. 2. Ruth Petticord in 1804 and shortly thereafter the family moved to Louisiana in 1804. In Kentucky, a son, John, was born in 1804?, d. 1847 in Texas, and Azariah II was born in 1805 and died in 1853 in Walker County, Texas. Later, one male and one female were born to this couple, but we have been unable to find the names or dates of birth. The name of a daughter listed in the 1810 Census is unknown.

A deed, dated August 20, 1808, and recorded August 24, 1808, in St. Landry Parish Court House, Opelousas, shows that Azariah Prather sold forty acres of land to Daniel L. Sutton on Bayou Plazquimine Bruile for three hundred dollars. The date of purchase for this land by Azariah cannot be determined as the earlier records are not available. On May 30, 1810, Azariah Prather purchased from Walter McBride "a certain lot in the Town of Opelousas purchased by me at an auction held by the Parish Judge", for three hundred dollars.

Azariah Prather, according to American State Papers, Vol. 3, pp. 207-208, No. 410-171, on microfilm in the Louisiana Room Dupre Library, University of Southwestern Louisiana, Lafayette, La., had bought about 170 acres of land situated on the east side of Hanchett's sawmill gulley in the County of Opelousas (now St. Landry Parish) near the [illegible] of Grand Prairie, in 1808, and had lived on it, or some members of his family had lived on this land for four years before selling the land to his son John, Nov. 5, 1812, who then sold it to William Lyon.

Presumably, Azariah died in Opelousas before Oct. 11, 1813, the date of his Succession Papers (#55 Opelousas Court House) which further states that Opelousas was the last place of residence of his widow, Ruth Prather, now deceased. Azariah signed the marriage form of his daughter Sally and John Prather, son of Barrauch Prather and Sarah Higgins, June 23, 1812. A tedious search of church, cemetery and court records has failed to locate the burial place of Azariah and Ruth.

Following Azariah's death, his widow, Ruth, pressed her claim for herself and four minor heirs of Azariah for 36 acres of land, situated on the left bank of Callahan's Bayou near Bayou Bellvue in the County of Opelousas, St. Landry Parish, bounded on the north by the land of Poillet and Duballion, on east by part of the same tract claimed by John Prather, 130 acres, under No. 410.

A plot survey, dated Sept. 23, 1810, accompanies the notice. American State Papers, Vol. 3, p. 217, Cert. 11.

Ruth died before she could obtain the grant and before Oct. 11, 1813. In all probability, both Azariah and Ruth were buried in St. Landry Catholic cemetery although no records have been found to date.

Thomas had married before the family migrated to Louisiana, so we do not have the name of his wife. The other sons and daughters married: Aaron m. Celeste Brasseaux April 27, 1819; Nicholas m. Marguerite Burleigh April 21, 1813; Tyler m. Eliza Humphries Rogers of London, England, May 16, 1816; John m. Catherine Clark July 28, 1828; Azariah II m. Sarah _____ in 183-; Nellie m. Samuel Owens, formerly of Kentucky, July 29, 1811; Sally m. John Prather June 23, 1812. The name and marriage data of the minor son and daughter listed in the 1810 Census is unknown as other data on these early Prathers, who were taking a vital part in the building of our then young nation.

The four older sons of Azariah Prather served the nation during the War of 1812 in the Battles of New Orleans. Nicholas in the Second Div., Maj. Gen. Thomas Pliemon commanding the 5th Brigade, 17th Regiment, Col. Josiah S. Johnston, County of Rapides, Co. Numbers 17, 18, 19, called the Consolidated Companies from Rapides, Avoyelles, Natchitoches, Catahoula, Ouachita from 1814-1815. In the same company with Nicholas was his friends from Opelousas James and Rezin Bowie, Jr., who also was then living in the central part of the young state. They all served as privates.

Thomas and Tyler were privates in the 16th Regiment commanded by Col. John Thompson, Capt. Francois Coulon Devellier, and in Capt. Samuel Laughlin's company from the County of Opelousas, St. Landry Parish.

PEDIGREE XCVIII

ROBERT BRUCE, King of Scotland, had by his first wife, Lady Isabel, daughter of Donald, Earl of Mar:

LADY MARGERY BRUCE, who m. 1315, his second wife, Walter, lord high steward of Scotland, and had:

ROBERT II., KING OF SCOTLAND, who had by his first wife, Lady Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Adam Mure, of Rowallen:

LADY CATHARINE STEWART, who m. Sir David Lindsay, of Glenesk, Earl of Crawford, and had:

ALEXANDER LINDSAY, Earl of Crawford, who m. Lady Marietta, daughter of Sir David Dunbar, of Cockburn, a son of George, Earl of Dunbar and Marche, and had:

LADY ELIZABETH LINDSAY, only daughter, who m. Sir Thomas Maule, of Panmure, d. 1498, and had:

ALEXANDER MAULE, Master of Panmure, d. v. p., who m. Lady Elizabeth, daughter of Sir David Guthrie, of Guthrie, high treasurer of Scotland, 1468, and had:

SIR THOMAS MAULE, of Panmure, killed at Flodden, 9 September, 1513. He m. Lady Elizabeth, daughter and co-heiress of Sir David Rollock, of Ballachie, and had:

ROBERT MAULE, of Panmure, d. 2 May, 1560. He had by his second wife, Isabel, daughter of James Arbuthnott, of Kellie:

WILLIAM MAULE, of Glaster, whose daughter (see Wood's Douglas's "Peerage of Scotland"),

ELEANOR MAULE, will proved 11 March, 1665, m. Sir Alexander Morison, of Preston Grange, a mansion and estate in Preston Pans parish, Haddingtonshire, which his father had purchased, in 1609, from the first Earl of Lothian. Sir Alexander was a lord of Sessions, or senator of the College of Justice, 1626-1632, and called "the lord of Preston Grange." His will proved at Edinburgh, 16 March, 1632. He had by his first wife, "Helenor Maule":

CATHERINE, MORISON,* living in 1695, who m. George Home, or Hume, Master of Wedderburn, killed with his father, Sir David Home,

*Her sister, Bertha Morison, m. Sir Robert Spottiswood, 1596-1646. (See p. 290.)

Dacre, of the Flenes blood, had a daughter named Catherine. See further as to this in the "Boston Transcript," 13 January, 4 April, and 30 November, 1904. The only "Lord Dacres," of proper age, who had a daughter named Catherine, was Humphrey de Dacre, the seventh feudal baron of Gilliesland, and the first Baron Dacre of the North, by writ. See Additional MSS. No. 5530, fo. 17, British Museum, or Nichols's "Coll. Geneal. Topog., Vol. I., 302 and 407, and "Boston Transcript," 8 May, 1906, and p. 460.

FARWELL. Pedigree LXXXV.—After printing this "Pedigree" in good faith, I discovered that the immigrant, Henry Farwell, was not of the parentage given to me. I find that his alleged mother was born in the year he came to New England! And "Henry," a younger son of John Farwell, of Hill Bishop, was born about thirty years after the immigrant came over! I have referred to this "fake pedigree" in the "Boston Transcript," 24 February, 1904.

LYMAN. Pedigree XXXVI.—This claim is reproduced from Dr. Coleman's "Lyman Genealogy." It seems that Sir "William" Lambert, of Owlton, and his wife, Lady Joan de Umfraville, had no son named "Robert," and that the "Robert Lambert, of Owlton," his alleged son, was the son and heir of Sir John Lambert, of Owlton, the son and heir of the said Sir "William," by the Lady Joan. Since printing this claim to royal descent, I find that there is some uncertainty about it, because there is no evidence, and only assumption, by Dr. Coleman, that Henry Lambert, of Ongar, in Essex, 1447, was the son of Robert Lambert, of Owlton, in Durham. I am retaining the claim, hoping that it may be substantiated. See further as to it in the "Boston Transcript," 16 May, 1904.

READ. Pedigree LXXX.—Since printing this claim, I find that William Read, of Woburn, was not the son of Sir Thomas, nor was the immigrant's wife, Mabel Kendall, the granddaughter of Henry and Helen Kendall, as believed by the compilers of the "pedigree;" therefore the claim to royal descent in these lines fails. See further as to this claim in the "Boston Transcript," 29 February, and 16 May, 1904.

WHITING. Pedigree LII.—This claim of royal descent is reproduced from "The Whiting Memorial," and the N. E. His. Gen. Reg., XV., 61. Since printing it I have discovered that Lady Elizabeth St. John, 1605-1677, through whom the Whitings claimed royal descent, was not of all the descent claimed for her. She certainly was the daughter of Sir Oliver St. John, of Keysoe, M. P., d. 1625, but he was the son of Henry St. John, of Keysoe, Gent., and not of Sir John St. John, as on p. 218 (who was of royal descent), as is evident from the will of the said Sir Oliver's mother, proved 7 September, 1616. As the connection of the said Henry St. John with the Lords of St. John, of royal blood, has not been found, this claim may be said to rest in abeyance, and I retain it in the hope that it can be satisfactorily remodeled. See further as to the errors in this "pedigree," the "Boston Transcript," 30 December, 1903.

WILKINSON. Pedigree LXIII.—This was a "pedigree" compiled by Mr. H. G. Somerby, in the American Heraldic Journal, I., 85. Since I reproduced it, I have learned the claim that Lawrence Wilkinson was the son of William and Mary (Conyers) Wilkinson, cannot be substantiated by any evidence, and that there is no proof that the said Mary Conyers, p. 276, through whom the blood royal, was the wife of the said William Wilkinson. I am retaining the claim, hoping that it may be improved. I have given more details as to the unreliability of this claim in the "Boston Transcript," 27 July, 1904.

See pp. 424 and 427, 4th edition.

Page 26.—Pedigree on p. 408 is the corrected version of the descent of Lady Alice Wotton, wife of Sir John Cirencester, or Chichester, of Ranleigh. Her grandfather, Sir Roger Moels, or Moelis, Kt., was the feudal lord of Newmarch and North Cadbury, Somerset. He served in the war in Wales, 1277, and was appointed governor of Llanbadarn-mawr castle, and d. 1295.. His wife, Lady Alice, was the daughter and heiress of Sir William de Preux, or Prowse, Kt. His father, Nicholas de Molis, was a great personage in the Court of Henry III., and was ambassador, high sheriff, governor of Guernsey, Jersey, etc., and of the castles of Rochester, Canterbury, Shirborne, Corf, etc.

And in same, October 6th, "Died in this town, James Boyd, Esq., Aet. 62." If Mr. Boyd was aged 62 when he died, in 1798, he was born about 1736, and for this reason the question was raised, could he have been the "James, b. and bapt. 3 and 4 May, 1732," the tenth child of Robert Boyd, of Kilmarnock, 1689-1762, who was m. 25 October, 1714, and had eleven children? I., and excluded his brother, Sir John (d. 1312), and Ralph, and the latter's son, Sir John Bigod, of Singes, Norfolk (d. 1305). Sir John (d. 1312), is supposed to have been the one who had two sons, John, his heir, and Roger, of Settrington, who had John and Roger, and, it is also claimed, was the father of Joan Chauncey (see p. A). See Cancl or Chauncy Genealogy, in Banks's "Stemmati Anglican," pedigrees of families omitted by Dugdale.

Page 67.—As to John Chauncy, who d. 8 June, 1510; From Plea Rolls, de Banco, Easter, 20 Edw. IV., 1461, "Hereford:"—"Walter Patsyll and Rose, his wife, sued John Chauncy, late of Sabryggeworth, gentleman, for illegal entry by force into a tenement at Sabryggeworth. Ralph Gyfford, formerly seized of said tenement, had granted it to John Gyfford and Matilda, his wife, and to the heirs of their bodies. According to an Inq. P. M., taken 1448-9, on the death of John Chauncy, the manor of Great Swampford, called Giffords, had descended to John Gyfford, to William, his son, to Margaret, heir, wife of John Chauncy. Margaret had granted said Manor to John Chauncy, her eldest son, and John Chauncy, the elder, by his deed, had granted it to John Chauncy, the younger, his brother, to be held by him and his heirs forever." I. DUGALD (3). His descendants settled in Rockbridge Co., Va.

II. ROBERT (3), b. 1656; m. 1695. His descendants settled in Augusta Co., Va., in 1740.

III. JOHN (3), b. 1656; d. 1734; m., emigrated from Ireland to Lancaster Co., Pa., in 1726. He had:

I. PATRICK (4), b. 1690, removed from Pa. to Va., in 1738.

II. ROBERT (4), d. in Va., m. and had four daughters, and one son, d. young.

III. JAMES (4), d. in England.

IV. DAVID (4), went to Augusta Co., Va., in 1741; m. Margaret Hamilton.

V. Rev. JOHN (4), b. 1692, P. E. minister at York, Pa., d. 1764; m., and had:

I. JAMES (5), b. 1731; removed to Va. in 1760.

II. ELLEN (5), b. 1733, d. 1735.

III. FRANCIS (5), b. 1737. (See p. 475).

IV. JOHN (5), lawyer, b. 1740, d. 1797; m. Ellen Parker, and had:

I. Rev. JOHN (6), educated in England, had charge first of the P. E. parish of York, and afterwards of that of Carlisle, Pa., m. and had issue.

II. FRANCIS (6).

III. JAMES (6), removed to Chillicothe, Ohio, m. the sister of the mother of Hon. Fred'k Watts, of Carlisle. He read law with the father of Mr. Watts. He d. about 1807, at York, Pa. Issue.

IV. PARKER (6), b. 1768, at Carlisle; m. Elizabeth Calhoun (d. 1846, in N. O.), of Chamberaburg, Pa. His son Parker, bred a civil engineer, is a banker, in Richmond, Va.

And again ("Egle's version"), that the aforesaid

JOHN (3), 1656-1734, had:

Rev. JOHN (4), 1692-1764, P. E. minister at York, Pa., who had:

FRANCIS (5), of Shippensburg, 1737-1791, who had:

Rev. JOHN (6), 1762-1819, P. E. minister at Carlisle, Pa. (half-brother to Ebenezer, p. 480).

Page 477.—Rev. John Campbell was ordained a deacon, 1 June, 1773, and five days later, Sunday, a priest, by the Lord Bishop of London, Richard Terrick, in the chapel of the Episcopal Palace, at Fulham. He became curate of St. John's, Bury, in 1777, and curate of All Saints, Hertford, 1782, where he m., in 1784, Catharine Cutler, who d. Sunday, 24 July, 1836, aged 84. Mr. Campbell's monument in the Watts lot, Carlisle, gives him the degree of D. D., but it was not discovered what college conferred it.

according to Dugdale in his "Warwickshire" history. She would have then been about 53 years old, if she was the dau. of the 2d Lord Clinton, as he was dead in March, 1335. Therefore, Lady Margaret was, as on p. 28, the only dau. of Sir John, 3d Baron, by his first wife, Lady Idonia de Say, who d. about 1388, as 3d Lord Clinton m. 2d., in 1389-90, Elizabeth de la Planche, by whom he had no issue. Martha Bacon, d. before 1667, was second wife of Anthony Smith, a tanner, of Colchester, Eng., will proved 1667. Their dau. Abigail, was bapt., at St. James, Colchester. See Keith's "Harrison," p. 25.

Page 38.—Col. William Bernard was entered at Gray's Inn, London, 1 Nov., 1631. His wife, m. in 1657, Lucy, d. Nov., 1675. She was the widow of Major Lewis Burwell, 1621-1656. See Va. His. Mag., IV, 294, "Virginia Carolorum," p. 260.

Anne Pympe, only daughter and heir of Reginald Pympe, of Nettlestead, by his wife, Lady Elizabeth Pashley (of Royal Descent), according to Inq. P.M., taken in 1576, married Sir John Scott, of Scott's Hall, knighted by Prince Henry, of Castile, sheriff of Kent, 1528 (son and heir of Sir William Scott, K.B., of Scott's Hall, sheriff of Kent, 1490; lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, and constable of Dover Castle, by his wife, Lady Sybilla, daughter of Sir Thomas Lewknor), and had:

Sir Reginald Scott, of Scott's Hall, and Nettlestead, heir, captain of Calais, sheriff of Kent, 1542, will dated 4 Sept., 1554 (see 4th Edition, "Bulletin," p. XXV). He was twice married, first to Lady Emeline, d. ante 1554, daughter of Sir William Kempe, of Olantigh, Kent, and secondly to Lady Mary, who survived her husband, daughter of Sir Brian Tuke, secretary to Cardinal Wolsey. He had, by which wife it is uncertain:

Charles Scott, of Egerton, Kent. d. 1617, named in his father's will, and in the Inq. P.M., 1576. His oldest brother, Sir Thomas, was the heir (see below), and he also had brothers, George, William and Henry, living in 1576. He m. Lady Jane, daughter of Sir Thomas Wyatt, also of Royal Descent (see Ped. XX), and had:

1. Thomas Scott, of Egerton, 1567-1635, p. 89.

II. Deborah Scott, who m. William Fleete, of Charthan, and had Capt. Henry Fleete, of Md. and Va., d. 1660. See pp. 469-70, and "The Magna Carta Barons and their American Descendants," pp. 328-335.

Sir Thomas Scott, of Scott's Hall, sheriff of Kent, 1577, will dated 17 Dec., 1594 (see above), was thrice married, and had nine children. Of these:

1. Mary Scott, m. Sir Anthony St. Leger, of Ulcombe, Kent, and had Anthony, and Sir Warham St. Leger, see p. 54.

2. Elizabeth Scott, m. 1589, Sir Richard Smyth, d. 1628 (see p. 803, A.R.D., 4th edition), and had John and Richard.

3. Daughter, m. Sir Henry Bromley.

4. Sir John Scott, of Nettlestead. His second wife was Lady Catharine, daughter of Sir Thomas Smyths, and widow of Sir Rowland Hayward, Lord Mayor of London, d. 1593, father of Mary Hayward, wife of Sir Warham St. Leger, p. 54.

5. Richard Scott, m. Catharine Hayward, also a daughter of the Lord Mayor.

Pages 57, 64, 245.—Lucy Lyons, wife of John Hopkins, was not the daughter of Sarah Spotswood Waugh, but was the sister of Dr. James Lyons, husband of this Miss Waugh, and dau. of Judge Peter Lyons, of the first Court of Appeals of Va., and his wife, Mary Catherine, dau. of James Power, of Ireland. Therefore, John Hopkins, Jr., was not of royal descent. See p. 858.

Pages 162, 244, 293.—"Elizabeth Moore" did not marry Col. James Macon. She m. William Penn Taylor, M.C., of Caroline Co., Va. See Richmond, Va., Standard, 3 Sep., 1881. Col. Macon's wife was Elizabeth, dau. Augustine Moore, and aunt of Bernard Moore, Jr., of "Chelsea," King William Co., Va. Therefore, Mary Macon, wife of Col. William Aylett, of "Fairfield," King William Co., d. 1781, was not of royal descent.

Page 170.—Another version of the descent of Capt. John-mor MacIntosh is given as follows, in Dr. Bullock's "Baillie of Dunain," p. 72:

Lachlan MacIntosh, the second of Borlum, by his wife Anne, had:
William MacIntosh, third of Borlum, m. 1656, Mary Baillie, and had:
Lachlan MacIntosh, of Knocknagail, who m. Mary Lockhart, and had:
Capt. John-mor MacIntosh, b. 1700, etc.

Page 227.—As it is questionable that Sir William Devereux was the son of Sir John Devereux, K.G., d. 22 Feb., 1392-3, by Lady Margaret de Vere, the royal line, in p. 418, is substituted.

3. Anne Dandridge Aylett, 1778-1818, m. Alexander Alexander, of "Liberty Hall," Rockbridge Co., Va., 1768-1844, and had:

Mary Anne Alexander, 1806-1881, who m. Francis Thomas Anderson, Judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Va., son of Col. William Anderson, of "Walnut Hill," Botetourt Co., Va., and had:

Anne Aylett Anderson, m. Rev. William Finney Junkin, D.D., LL.D., of Montclair, N. J., b. 1831, son of Rev. George Junkin, D.D., LL.D., 1790-1868, and had:

1. Francis Thomas Anderson Junkin, A.M., LL.B., of Chicago.
2. William Dandridge Alexander Junkin, of New York.

Pages 246, 249, 284, 286.—Miss Isa Glenn m., in New York City, 11 Nov. 1903, Samuel John Bayard Schindel, Captain, U. S. Army, and had John Bayard Schindel.

Page 301.—It is queried that "Margaret Erskine" was the dau. of "Margaret Stewart."

Page 354.—The descent from "Henry de Bohun" is incorrect in this page. It is derived in another way, for which see p. 514.

I would be happy to reproduce the pension record of the aforementioned THOMAS PRATHER in its entirety for you, but, if you already have same, it would be unnecessary.

I understand that PRATHER is a Welsh family name. Does your research draw the same conclusion?

I look forward to hearing from you at the earliest convenience. I enclose a legal-size return envelope for your reply.

Genealogically yours

Dear Mrs. Strickland:

Having noticed a query of yours in the April 19, 1984 issue of Family Puzzlers, I wanted to communicate with you. As I too descend from a Prather, I thought that possibly we could help one another with this line. I descend directly from one ELEANOR (or ELLENDER) PRATHER, who was married to one JOHN HILL prior to 1850 (I have the exact date in my records) in Jackson County, Indiana. I am not sure who were my ELEANOR PRATHER's parents. However I wrote to the National Archives, who sent me the complete psnsion record of one THOMAS PRATHER, who was born on Mar. 26, 175[illegible] in Prince Georges County, Maryland and who died on August 12, 1841 place unknown. THOMAS served in the American Revolution from Mulberryfields (where is this place?), North Carolina. Thomas Prather had a son named Bazil Prather. Must be some relation to your Basil Prather, right?

Have you ever checked courthouse records in Indiana? Two years ago I checked land records in Jackson County, IN, but I was researching BOWMAN family only at that time.
